CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - The Institution ensures effective curriculum delivery through a well planned and documented process

Govt. Arts College stands as a centre for higher education, ensuring effective and quality curriculum delivery. The college supports curriculum enrichment through various programs and a well-equipped library of around 45,000 books, complemented by journals and periodicals. ICT tools, Inflibnet, and ORICE are extensively used to enhance classroom teaching and deliver core curriculum content. In this IT era, the college provides up-to-date online and offline learning resources. To enrich the curriculum, departments conduct co-curricular activities like seminars, workshops, debates, and discussions, all facilitated and documented by IQAC. The college regularly organizes industrial visits and field trips. Experimental activities are crucial for science disciplines. The campus offers broadband internet, photocopying, and DTP facilities. Moreover, interdisciplinary open courses mobilize the learning experience. The academic calendar of the University, is strictly followed for systematic curricular activity implementation. Activities like admission, class commencement, examinations, and result declarations adhere to this calendar. Teachers' diaries document all teaching and curricular activities. Continuous evaluation is conducted through class tests, seminars, assignments, and projects, as per university guidelines. College and department monitoring committees oversee all curricular, co-curricular, and extracurricular activities, ensuring 90 working days per semester. These committees also address student grievances and ensure timely syllabus completion.

1.1.2 - The institution adheres to the academic calendar including for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)

The university's academic calendar dictates all teaching and learning activities, including admissions, continuous assessments, end semester exams, and result declarations. The college aims for at least 90 working days per semester. The university schedules class commencements and admission closures according to the previous academic calendar, with minor adjustments for unforeseen delays. Enrollment, fee remittance, and exam registration dates are determined by the academic calendar and completed via the online portal. Continuous evaluation marks, derived from seminars, assignments, and exams, follow this schedule. Teachers ensure students have reviewed and verified their marks before submission to the university. Student grievances are addressed and resolved prior to finalizing scores. The university sets submission dates for internal evaluation scores, which the college submits through a three-level verification process involving the Lecturer, HoD, and Principal. The College Level Monitoring Committee (CLMC), led by the principal and facilitated by a senior faculty member, ensures all academic activities align with the academic calendar. This systematic approach maintains a smooth and efficient academic environment.

Government Arts College, affiliated with the University of Kerala, has a clear system for conducting internal and external examinations. The college follows a continuous evaluation process in line with the University's guidelines. This internal evaluation is overseen by the College Level Monitoring Committee (CLMC). Continuous assessment includes internal exams, seminars, and assignments. The timetable and topics for internal exams are communicated to students well in advance. Internal marks are calculated according to University guidelines, incorporating scores from exams, seminars, and assignments. 2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time-bound and efficient

After each semester, the draft internal marks are posted on the department notice board, giving students ample opportunity to raise any concerns they may have regarding their grades. If a student identifies an issue, their first step should be to discuss it with the relevant teacher for clarification. Should the concern remain unresolved, the student can then escalate the matter to the head of the department. Each complaint is carefully examined by the Department Level Monitoring Committee (DLMC) for the respective department. If the DLMC is unable to resolve the issue, it will be forwarded to the College Level Monitoring Committee (CLMC), which is responsible for addressing the situation appropriately and arriving at a fair conclusion. The internal marks undergo a thorough verification process at three levels: by the tutor, the head of the department, and the Principal. This multi-level approach ensures that students have multiple avenues to effectively address their grievances.

6.4 - Financial Management and Resource Mobilization

6.4.1 - Institution conducts internal and external financial audits regularly Enumerate the various internal and external financial audits carried out during the year with the mechanism for settling audit objections within a maximum of 200 words

Our college conducts both internal and external audits annually. Internally, an institutional-level audit focuses on annual stock verification, beginning with department-wise checks performed by teaching and non-teaching staff. Following this, a formal internal audit is carried out to physically verify all assets, including furniture, instruments, computers, library books, and laboratory items recorded in the stock registers. A stock verification committee, composed of teachers, is formed each year to oversee this process. Any discrepancies found during the audit are reported for further action. Items that are irreparably damaged are identified for write-off and submitted to the principal for approval. Externally, the audit wing of the Department of Collegiate Education conducts a thorough review of financial transactions, including general expenses, plan fund utilization, student grants and scholarships, guest faculty salaries, and state financial assistance. Attendance records, stock registers, and leave accounts are also verified. Occasionally, the Accountant General's office audits past accounts, while the accounts of the PTA, Continuing Education Sub Centre, UGC etc are reviewed by chartered accountants. Additionally, the stores and purchase department audits every five years, ensuring compliance with state rules and proper fund utilization, ultimately promoting good financial practices within the institution.

The college planning board, purchase committee, and college council oversee fund implementation. New construction and renovation projects are monitored by the building committee. Additional funds are raised through organizations like the Parent Teacher Association (PTA), Alumni Association, and College Development Committee (CDC), which also help cover routine student support and amenities. Furthermore the college systematically mobilizes and optimally utilizes its resources.

Government Arts College manages waste in a very effective manner. Regular collection and sorting of solid trash is done. On the designated day, it is turned over to the Thiruvananthapuram Corporation's collecting agents. To ensure natural decomposition and a clean campus, dried leaves that are gathered from the campus are also placed in the Corporation's dry leaf bank. Liquid waste from the restrooms is directed into the covered sanitation pits on site, which are frequently serviced. The water from the canteen and restrooms is cleaned up and used again to hydrate the plants that are planted in strategic locations. Used sanitary napkins undergo a methodical burning process in the incinerator. A moderate amount of e-waste, produced at the college, is collected and stored safely as per the Government of Kerala regulations. The chemical waste from the chemistry lab's experiments is either carefully neutralized or stored on site. 7.1.8 - Describe the Institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e., tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal socioeconomic and other diversities (within 200 words).

We at Government Arts College believe in social inclusivity. Nobody is discriminated on the basis of race, religion, caste, language or socio-economic status. Thanks to the statewide admission procedure, though primarily a Malayali crowd, our students come from different sociocultural backgrounds. Instead of erecting barriers this actually helps to ensure tolerance and inclusivity. Irrespective of religion and caste, everybody celebrates festivals like Onam, Christmas, Bakrid, Holy etc. We also have students whose mother tongue is not Malayalam. Despite being a government college in the capital city of Kerala, it is interesting to note that such students are made to feel at home since many members of the staff and students are multilingual. Students from a linguistic minority culture are also given the opportunity to choose a course in their mother tongue. With the help of the State and Central Governments, the college aids those students who come from financially challenged backgrounds. Additionally, the PTA and the Staff Club regularly raise funds when students encounter medical emergencies or academic hurdles. The Career Guidance and Placement Cells of the college, also help the students to strategically plan their studies and career to ensure a better future.

"Writings on Contemporary Issues," a mandatory course for all UG students, feature many works that flaunt the pride of being an Indian. Courses in History delves into the rich history and varied heritage of our nation. That India is a sovereign, socialist, secular, democratic republic is a message reiterated by multiple works in the UG and PG curriculum. Respect for the nation, flag, anthem, culture, environment, and fellow citizens (be they of any religion, caste, language or socio-economic background) is also ensured via the activities of the various clubs. Events like talks, poster exhibitions, essay writing competitions, quizzes, debates, photography contests are conducted every year to sensitize the staff and students on constitutional values, rights, duties, and responsibilities of citizens.
